

Biographical Notes

Stanislaw Burdziej, Assistant Professor, University of Warmia and Mazury in Olsztyn, Poland and a graduate in American Studies from Heidelberg University, Germany. Author of W drodze do Santiago de Compostela [On the Way to Santiago de Compostela. Sociological Portrayal of a Pilgrimage], Krakow: Nomos, 2005, and a dozen scholarly articles (published in Kultura i Społeczeństwo, Studia Narodowościowe, Polish Diplomatic Review). Academic interests include relations between religion and state in the USA, as well as sociology of religion and politics. E-mail: stanislaw.burdziej@wp.pl

Aleš Črnič, Associate Professor and Head of the Cultural Studies Department, Faculty of Social Sciences, University of Ljubljana, Slovenia. His academic interests focus mainly on New Religious Movements, religious pluralism and sociology of religion. He is Vice President of the International Study of Religion in Central and Eastern Europe Association (ISORECEA) and the president of the section for Sociology of Religion of the Slovenian Sociological Association. In 2005 he published V imenu Krišne: družboslovna študija gibanja Hare Krišna [In the Name of Krishna: Sociological Study of the Hare Krishna Movement], Ljubljana: Fakulteta za družbene vede, 2005. E-mail: ales.crnica@fdv.uni-lj.si

Tadeusz Doktor, 1950–2007, Polish psychologist and sociologist of religion, working at Warsaw University. He was a leading specialist in New Religious Movements, cultural studies and the theory of astrology. A posthumous tribute appears in this volume.

Dorota Hall, PhD in sociology, cultural anthropologist, assistant professor in the Department of Religious Studies, Institute of Philosophy and Sociology, Polish Academy of Sciences. New Age w Polsce: Lokalny wymiar globalnego zjawiska [New Age. The local dimension of the global phenomenon], Warsaw: Wydawnictwa Akademickie i Profesjonalne, 2007. General Secretary of the International Study of Religion in Central and Eastern Europe Association (ISORECEA). Her research interests embrace new spiritualities and new religious movements in Central and Eastern Europe, as well as the religiosity of Polish youths subscribing themselves to Catholicism. E-mail: dhall@hfhropol.waw.pl

Franz Höllinger, Professor of Sociology at the University of Graz, Austria. His main fields of research are sociology of religion, family, gender roles, and social networks from a cross-national comparative perspective. He is the author of the: Volksreligion und Herrschaftskirche. Die Wurzeln religiösen Verhaltens in westlichen Gesellschaften [Popular religion and the churches. The roots of religious behaviour in Western societies], Opladen: Leske Budrich, 1996; and Religiöse Kultur in Brasilien. Zwischen traditionellem Volksglauben und modernen Erweckungsbewegungen [The religious culture of Brazil. Between traditional popular beliefs and modern revivalism], Frankfurt am Main: Campus Verlag, 2007. E-mail: franz.hoellinger@uni-graz.at

Katarzyna Leszczyńska, Assistant professor at the Department of Sociology and Social Anthropology, AGH University of Science and Technology, Krakow, Poland. She is the author of Imprimatur dla Unii? Kościół rzymskokatolicki w Polsce i Czechach wobec procesów zjednoczeniowych [Imprimatur for Union? The standpoint of the Roman Catholic Church in Poland and Czech Republic towards the integration process], Krakow: Nomos, 2002, and co-editor of Kobiety i religie [Women and Religions], Krakow: Nomos, 2006. Her academic interests focus on anthropology of religion, sociology of language and sociology of gender. She was the recipient of a fellowship in the Start Programme for young researchers of the Foundation for Polish Science and scholarship in the Mistrz Programme of the Foundation for Polish Science. E-mail: kaszha@poczta.fm

Krzysztof Olechnicki, Assistant Professor at the Institute of Sociology of the Nicolas Copernicus University in Toruń, Poland. His major research areas include social anthropology, visual sociology, visual anthropology and new social movements. He has published Słownik socjologiczny [Sociological Dictionary], Toruń: Graffiti BC, 1997, co-authored with Paweł Załęcki; New Age: Kościół wobec wyzwania Wodnika [New Age: The Church and the challenges of Aquarius], Warszawa: Oficyna Naukowa, 1998; and Antropologia obrazu [Anthropology of the Image], Warszawa: Oficyna Naukowa, 2003 which was awarded the Polish Sociological Association's Stanisław Ossowski Award. E-mail: ko@umk.pl

Enzo Pace, Professor of Sociology and Sociology of Religion at the Faculty of Political Sciences, University of Padova, Italy. Former president of the International Society for the Sociology of Religion. His academic interests focus on secularisation and desecularisation, New Religious Movements, fundamentalism, sociology of Islam, Pentecostalism and New Ethnic Churches in Europe. He has published Sociologia dell'islam [Sociology of Islam], Roma: Carocci, 2004; Introduzione alla sociologia delle religioni [Introduction to the Sociology of Religion], Roma: Carocci, 2007; and Raccontare Dio: La religione come comunicazione [Narrating God: Religion as Communication], Bologna: Il Mulino 2008. E-mail: vincenzo.pace@unipd.it

Zbigniew Pasek, Professor of Religious Studies, Department of Cultural Studies, AGH University of Science and Technology, Krakow, Poland. His main fields of research are Protestantism, New Religious Movements, and relations between art and religion. He is the author of: Ruch Zielonoświątkowy [Pentecostal Movement: Test of monograph], Krakow: Nomos, 1992; Związek Stanowczych Chrześcijan: Studium historii idei Religijnych [Christian endeavour: Study of the history of religious ideas], Krakow: UJ, 1993; Protestanckie wyznania wiary: Wybór tekstów źródłowych [Protestant Creeds. Selection of the Texts], Krakow: UJ, 1995; Pstrokatę piękno: Szkice z dziejów duchowości chrześcijańskiej [Motley beauty: Essays on the History of Christian Spirituality], Krakow: Media-Press, 1999; and Topika zbawienia w polskich kancjonalach ewangelikalnego protestantyzmu [The Topic of Redemption in Polish Psalm-Books of Evangelical Churches], Krakow: UJ, 2004. E-mail: zbigniew\_pasek@o2.pl

Katarzyna Stark, Assistant Professor at the Faculty of Humanities, AGH University of Science and Technology in Krakow, Poland. Her major fields of research are Russian philosophy, philosophy of religion and philosophical anthropology. E-mail: stark@uci.agh.edu.pl

Malgorzata Zawila, Assistant Professor at the Institute of Religious Studies at Jagiellonian University, Krakow, Poland. Her academic interests are focused on sociology of religion, sociology of death and dying and generally in death studies. She conducts research on the sociological, psychological and religious aspects of attitudes toward death and dying, including euthanasia, abortion and the death penalty, and interested in the cultural context of death contemporarily and historically. E-mail: zawila.m@poczta.fm

Katarzyna Zielińska, Assistant Professor at the Institute of Sociology of Jagiellonian University, Krakow, Poland. Her academic interests focus on theoretical perspectives in the sociology of religion and new religious phenomena, as well as gender issues. She is the author of Spory wokół teorii sekularyzacji [Debates on secularization theories], Krakow: Nomos, 2009 and co-author of Kobieta w kulturze i społeczeństwie [Woman in culture and society], Kraków: Rabid, 2009. E-mail: k.zielinska@iphils.uj.edu.pl